

GEN. BULLER IS SILENT

London Wild With Anxiety to Hear News From the Front

FEAR OF THE WORST

Very Fact of No News Received Created Gravest Concern in England

QUEEN MAKING CONSTANT INQUIRIES OF WAR OFFICE.

Gen. Buller Has Been Forced to Return to the Tactics of Attacking the Boers in Front—If He is Defeated the British Ministry Will Fall—It is Certain That a Great Battle is On—Buller's Last Message Reads Like An Apology—Boers Are Still Bombarding Kimberley.

London, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—The queen is making constant inquiries for news from General Buller, over the special wire which connects Balmoral House with the war office.

Constantly increasing crowds surround the war office and block traffic in front of the newspaper offices. The public interest aroused by the doubtful situation in Natal is unprecedented in the history of this war.

At 7 o'clock tonight nothing had been heard from Buller, or it news has arrived, the war office officials have not seen fit to give it out.

The very fact that no news has arrived, creates anxiety. If Buller had won the battle, he would certainly have sent the news at once, and the war office would have been only too glad to make it public.

The stock exchange rumor that Gen. Warren had captured Spion Kop is utterly discredited. The great multitude gathered around the war office fear that the worst has happened and that Buller has been driven back with great loss if he made a frontal attack last night as was expected.

LONDON IS WILD WITH ANXIETY

Not a Word of News Received Today From Gen. Buller.

London, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—Keen anxiety prevails throughout England for news of Gen. Warren's night attack on Spion Kop, which Gen. Buller in his dispatch last night said was meditated.

All night long the war office was brilliantly lighted up. Many of the officials were on hand awaiting news of the daring step Gen. Buller had ordered. Early this morning brought groups of people and as the day advanced, they came in crowds. Not a line, however, came from Buller.

Noon went by, and still nothing, and the anxiety on all sides increased.

Gen. Buller's dispatch, announcing that Gen. Warren was to make a night attack with the bayonet, one of the most hazardous moves in modern warfare, was taken to indicate that the flanking movement, which Warren undertook, had failed.

Gen. Buller has apparently been forced to return to the tactics which thus far have proved unsuccessful, namely a frontal attack on the fortified enemy. The only change is the attack is to be made at night.

General Methuen tried this at Magersfontein, but the Boers were awake, and it resulted in fearful losses in the Highland brigade.

Remembering this it can easily be seen that England awaits with fear and anxiety the result of Buller's movement. If it is another defeat, it would not be surprising to see the overthrowing of the present ministry. The first signs of discord among the British people as to the carrying on of the war, was announced today. John Bryan-Roberts, leader of the Welsh liberals in the house of commons, has given notice that he will speak in parliament in favor of the cessation of hostilities in South Africa.

Stock Exchange Rumor

London, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—The Evening News bears that satisfactory news from Buller has been received at the war office. The News admits that the only authority for the report is a stock rumor. According to the rumor Gen. Warren has captured Spion Kop.

Great Battle Is On.

London, Jan. 24, 3 a. m.—The great battle in which the fate of Ladysmith is to be decided one way or the other in all probability is on at this writing in the vicinity of Spionkop, the key to the Boer position.

This belief is based on an official message from Sir Redvers Buller, dated Tuesday evening, and given out at the War office shortly before 2 o'clock this morning.

It is evident that General Buller is sanguine of success, as he throws aside all precedents by making known his plans in advance of his action.

Boers Like An Apology.

London, Jan. 24, 4 a. m.—Gen. Buller's great turning movement, of which so much had been expected, has come to a standstill. His carefully worded message to the war office telling this, after a silence of two days, reads like an apology and an explanation.

Gen. Warren holds the ridges, but the enemy's positions are higher. The British artillery is playing in the Boer positions, and the Boers are replying. The British infantry is separated by only 1,400 yards by the enemy, but an approach to the steep slopes, across the bare open, would expose the British to fatal rifle fire.

Cape Town Dutch in Revolt

London, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—Considerable attention is directed to subsidiary items of news from Cape Colony. It is learned that 2,000 Cape Town Dutch of Somerset East have determined to join the Boer army, and it is feared the rebellion may spread across the Colony, in which case serious danger will threaten the British communications, for all forces available for the guarding of the railways are stationed in the disaffected district to the north.

Dr. Leyds Very Hopeful

Antwerp, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—Intense anxiety has prevailed all day at the Transvaal legation at Brussels. Dr. Leyds is expectantly hopeful. He says he knows Commandant Joubert so well that he is confident he would not have let the British cross the Tugela without resistance unless he planned to have a surprise waiting for the British general.

Still Bombarding Kimberley.

Kimberley, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—The Boers continue to bombard this town vigorously. They are also doing considerable shipping of cattle, and taking shots at British outposts.

Drifting With Broken Rudder

Liverpool, Jan. 24.—[Special Cablegram.]—The steamer Cymric has been sent in search of the steamer Manchester which has on board a part of the Irish fusiliers bound for South Africa and which is drifting near the equator with her propeller broken. The Manchester was last reported at Gibraltar, December 26th.

NINETY THOUSAND COAL MINERS IDLE

Monster Strike in Austrian Provinces Causes the Government Great Uneasiness.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—The great strike of the coal miners in Bohemia, Moravia and Austrian Silesia has assumed such threatening proportions that the Austrian government has found it expedient to offer itself as a mediator between the contending parties.

Fully 90,000 workmen are said to be out in the disaffected districts, and industry is severely suffering under the lack of coal. The situation has grown so grave that even the political misery prevailing in the monarchy has stepped into the background, public attention being entirely absorbed by the possibilities of the great strike.

In the Bohemian City of Teplitz, a short distance from the coal districts, the glass factories were compelled to shut down on account of want of coal. In the Saxon capital, Dresden, whose supply of coal is drawn from the Bohemian districts, the gas plants and surface railroads had to reduce their working time, and even in the schools the lack of coal makes itself sore felt.

In Dux, Bohemia, the bakers have no fuel for their stoves. Many instances are reported from other parts which are similarly affected by the strike.

WILL HAVE TO LOCK BAGGAGE

Western Railroads May Adopt Rule Not to Check Open Packages

The western railroads are considering the advisability of adopting a rule not to check as baggage any "telescopes" or other carrier of goods which is not provided with a lock. Fifty per cent of the claims for loss or damage to baggage are made in cases where no lock was on the carrier. The railroads have had to pay a majority of such claims because they could not prove whether their own employes or drivers of express wagons tampered with the goods. It is asserted that many false claims have been made for the loss or theft of goods which never were put into "telescopes" or other carriers.

HOARD AND ADAMS PUSH PURE FOOD

WISCONSIN MEN MAKING A CAMPAIGN IN WASHINGTON.

An Effort to Combine All Favorable Elements For Such Legislation on One Plan of Action—Opposition to Reciprocity—Congressman Babcock Gave a Dinner Last Night.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Dairy and Food Commissioner H. C. Adams arrived here yesterday and will remain several days, as will also former Gov. Hoard. An effort will be made by those who are here representing the dairy interests and those who are favorable to pure food legislation to secure an agreement among those in favor of some single plan of action which will serve to concentrate the members of the house on one measure relating to oleomargarine and food products generally and upon which a united effort can be made to secure final action.

Opposition to Reciprocity.

Members of the Wisconsin delegation are receiving petitions and memorials from producers and manufacturers in the state protesting against the ratification of the pending reciprocity treaties. Hosiery manufacturers, makers of perfume and those interested in mineral water production are foremost in the movement.

Indians at Washington.

The delegation of Indians from the Green Bay agency had another conference with Indian Commissioner Jones. Among the questions considered was the proposed sale of hardwood timber on the Menominee reservation. The Indians favor the disposal of the timber and it is understood that the Indian officials are inclined to agree to the suggestion that mills be erected on the reservation to work up the timber.

Babcock Gives a Dinner

Representative Babcock, as chairman of the republican congressional committee, gave a dinner at the Hotel Raleigh last night to the members of the executive committee, which conducts the campaign for representatives in the different states representing the full congressional committee.

To Confer on Roberts Case

The Wisconsin house delegation held a caucus today on the Roberts case, at which the subject was gone over after the reports and speeches were considered, with a view to securing a unanimous vote of the delegation, either one side of the question or the other, according as the weight of the case appeared to rest.

RUSSIA TAKES A NEW PORT

Reported Clear Has Landed the Gulf of Burghas on Bulgarian Coast.

Vienna, Jan. 24.—From Sophia comes a telegram stating that a Russian detachment, consisting of the officers of the general staff and the marine has arrived there and will go to inspect the gulf of Burghas and other harbors on the Bulgarian coast of the Black Sea. The report that Burghas is to be ceded to Russia is again revived, but this time it is stated the harbor is to be let into provisionally as a ship station and that Russia is to pay 2,000,000 rubles annually for the use of it.

If the telegram prove correct and Russia proposes to rent or to take the Gulf of Burghas, the move means the bringing of her fleet within 122 sea miles of Constantinople, thus enabling her to reach there in twelve hours—twenty-eight hours less than she can now from her nearest port.

MACRUM WAS A BOER

Reason Why He Was Unable to Represent Great Britain at Pretoria.

Washington, Jan. 24.—[Special Telegram.]—It is learned that C. F. Macrum, ex-consul at Pretoria, has become a naturalized citizen of the Transvaal republic. This explains why he was unable to represent the interests of Great Britain during the war and also furnishes an explanation for the fact that he was bearing a personal letter from Krueger to McKinley.

LARK ENDED IN A TRAGEDY

Women Rile About Cowboy Fashion and Wound a Citizen

Cynthiana, Ky., Jan. 24.—Jule Haley and Lizzie Wardell, white women, early this morning began a lark which ended in a tragedy. The women had been drinking. They secured a horse, which both mounted and rode. They rode up and down the streets at full speed, yelling in regular frontier fashion, and to make things livelier, the Haley woman pulled a revolver and began firing in every direction. One of the bullets struck James Van Hook, colored, in the stomach, inflicting a fatal wound. The Haley woman is in jail.

Drunkards to be "Posted"

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 24.—At the last council meeting Alderman Pirsch offered a resolution that the chief of police should get photographs of the men on the "black list" and should post the pictures in the saloons. The motion was carried, and the habitual drinkers and "dead beats" will have some difficulty in getting liquor.

PROTEST COMES FROM VIENNA

EUROPEAN UNEASINESS OVER THE PHILIPPINES.

Vienna Freie Presse Declares That the Inability of General Otis to Suppress the Rebellion Gives the Powers the Right to Ask Direct Questions.

Vienna, Jan. 24.—Although a denial of the correctness of the statement that Germany, France, England and Russia addressed a note of inquiry to the Washington government relative to the future policy of the United States in the Philippines has been published here, the Freie Presse today appears with an editorial which is interesting since it voices the sentiment which is generally encountered here whenever the United States and its expansion policy is mentioned. The article says the addressing of the note is explained by "the situation in the archipelago and the obvious plainness of the American colonial policy."

Otis' Reports Discredited

The Freie Presse declares that "General Otis' victory dispatches are not believed even in America, and that all the world knows the Filipinos will continue the war with endurance and confidence. One thing but recently made known, however, is that the small number of Filipinos believed to be loyal to America have declared after learning the contents of President McKinley's message that peace can be restored only if annexation be considered temporary."

"American rule is, therefore, dependent upon the bayonet, and the powers politically or commercially interested in east Asia can remain calm no longer, for through this war, which has lasted already over a year, all commerce is at a standstill and European merchants are suffering."

Foreign Trade in Danger

Furthermore, because Governor General Otis grants American dealers licenses to trade within the blockaded harbors, while the foreigner is ruthlessly barred with the prospect of a civil war which will last eternally and in view of the one-sided policy favoring American commerce, interested powers are obliged to put the question which will force the American government to show the color of its Philippine policy."

BRYAN LAYS OUT PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

Will Talk Free Silver in the West and Anti Imperialism in the East.

Washington, Jan. 24.—To talk free silver in states where it won't hurt and to howl about imperialism and trusts elsewhere is the scheme which the democrats arranged with Mr. Bryan during his visit to Washington a few days ago. Information which comes from the inner democratic circles is that this was the program agreed upon:

To reaffirm the Chicago platform as a matter of consistency; to push the free silver issue in states west of the Missouri where silver is still in favor, to say very little about it in the east but to make imperialism and trusts the city cry there.

By this double-headed sort of arrangement the Bryan democrats have actually made themselves believe they have a chance to win. They count upon a tremendous republican loss from among the German-Americans in such states as Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Ohio as a result of vigorous use of the "empire" boggy man. But obviously free silver must be kept well in the back ground or the German-Americans will refuse to get sufficiently excited over imperialism to vote for the 16 to 1 man. By a skillful admixture of anti-British and pro Boer talk it is hoped to accentuate the imperialism issue and make it specially acceptable to all voters of Dutch and Irish extraction.

WILL REORGANIZE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Chapelle's Work in the Philippines is Understood by the Federal Government.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—There is a complete understanding between the government and Archbishop Chapelle concerning church affairs in the Philippines. He has gone there as representative of the pope for the purpose of reorganizing the Catholic church upon the same basis that exists in the United States, and Gen. Otis is thoroughly informed of his mission and of the policy he is directed to pursue.

There is no intention on the part of the government to confiscate or occupy without fair remuneration any property belonging to the church.

There will be no objection to the Freres remaining in the Philippines provided they do not interfere with political and civil affairs and confine their activity exclusively to ecclesiastical matters. The schools will be secularized, although there will be no objection to the establishment of Catholic schools provided the church or the people prefer to maintain them.

DENTING OF HATS IS BARRED

Soldiers Are Ordered to Wear Them in Original Shape

Washington, Jan. 24.—No more may the private soldier knock two or three, or even four, dents into his campaign hat or pin up a flap of the brim on one side to give him a rakish air. The regulation just issued from the war department reads:

"The wearing of these hats in any other than their original shape is prohibited."

The original shape in the case of the campaign hat is on the Alpine order, a shape that experience has proved to be the most becoming to the average soldier's head. The privates have been used to shaping their hats through the denting process so as to indicate the command to which they belonged, and it is expected that they will not like this order.

ENGLAND IS READY TO ASK MEDIATION

Lord Pauncotote Believed to Have a Hand in Reception of Montagu White.

Washington, Jan. 24.—General Buller and the British army in south Africa are believed in Washington to be in a desperate position. The action of the British war department in withholding news from the front is taken to mean that a serious disaster to the British arms is impending.

Then, too, the cordial, though unofficial, reception, of Montagu White, President Kruger's envoy, by Secretary Hay, yesterday afternoon, after the cabinet had devoted over an hour to an earnest discussion of the south African situation, is interpreted to mean that Lord Pauncotote asked, in behalf of his government, that White be received, so that in the event of fresh disaster to Buller and his forces there will be an accredited representative of the South African republic in Washington, who will be authorized to join with Great Britain in requesting the United States to mediate between the combatants.

It is conceded that another defeat sustained by Buller, situated as he is on the enemy's side of the Tugela river, practically cut off from his base, would mean the immediate fall of Ladysmith and surrender of the vast stores of munitions of war that Gen. White has been defending.

England Suggests Recognition.

That Great Britain's cabinet ministers have been fully alive to the possibilities of the situation and the necessity for prompt mediation to save whatever would be left of English honor and property is indicated by the frequency and length of the visits of Lord Pauncotote to the state department.

Scarcely a day elapsed since Buller crossed the Tugela that the British ambassador has not spent from one to two hours with Mr. Hay. That official's well known friendship for the English, aside from the generally accepted belief that he has bound the United States to England by a secret alliance, would have caused him readily to acquiesce in any reasonable proposition that the British ambassador might have made.

He was relieved of the responsibility of acting on his personal judgment however, when the cabinet practically agreed that the United States ought to place themselves in a position where they could act promptly and effectively in the event of their services as a mediator being called for.

LOVERS FORM A TRUST

Novel Society in Illinois, Outsiders Not Allowed to Court Girls at Arcola.

Arcola, Ill., Jan. 24.—What appears to be a determined organization of white cups seems to be operating in this city. The peculiar thing about the organization is the motive behind it, which is for the protection of its members against the intrusion by outsiders in the affairs of love. The band, as far as can be learned, is composed of young men ranging in age from 15 to 20 years, who are sworn to protect each other, even unto death, if necessary, in order to keep young men who are not members of the band from infringing upon their rights in paying attention to the women friends of any of the members. The violation of any of the rules laid down in the by-laws of the organization means severe punishment to the offender and swift justice is meted out to the young man who dares to mingle in the love affairs of any member of the band.

Patient Drinks Carbolic Acid

Broadhead, Wis., Jan. 24.—Yesterday morning William Bump, a farmer residing on the Eldred place near Albany, died suddenly. He had been ill with typhoid fever some days and while there was no attendant in the room he drank about two ounces of carbolic acid, whether by accident or design is not known, and died soon after. He leaves a wife and two children.

Oneida Indians Can Vote

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 24.—In the Outagamie circuit court yesterday a decision was rendered by Judge Goodland confirming the right of Oneida Indians residing on allotted lands on the reservation partially in Outagamie county, to vote at general elections.

CHALLENGE TO GREAT BRITAIN

Warning Resolution Introduced in Senate Today by Mr. Pettigrew

CONTRABANDS OF WAR

United States Will Not Recognize Right of Any Nation to Seize Food Stuffs

Such an Act the Resolution Declares Will Be at Once Considered as Unfriendly to This Nation—Also Resolution Calling For Information About Sulu Treaty—Second Days Debate on the Roberts Case.

Washington, Jan. 24.—[Special Telegram.]—Senator Pettigrew offered in the senate today a resolution declaring that the United States will not recognize the right of any nation to seize and declare contraband of war any food products and that such act will be regarded as unfriendly to the United States. He asked that the matter go over until tomorrow as he wished to make some remarks thereon.

The senate adopted Mr. Pettigrew's resolution calling for information regarding the treaty with the sultan of Sulu.

Senator Allen of Nebraska introduced in the senate today a resolution directing the secretary of war to furnish a detailed statement of the revenues collected in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines and what proportion of the revenues had been turned into the United States treasury since the "seizure of Cuba."

Took Issue With Littlefield

The second day's debate on the Roberts case in the house opened with no diminution in the interest displayed. Roberts himself was early on the floor, attired as carefully as though he was expected to attend a reception. Mr. Powers, republican, of Vermont was the first speaker. He took issue with Littlefield of the minority in the claim that the precedents all supported the idea that the proper course to pursue is to admit Roberts and then expel him.

Mr. Landis of Indiana, one of the members of the committee who signed the majority report argued that Utah had violated her compact with the United States. He scored the Mormon church for its alleged ill faith, arousing great enthusiasm for his scathing denunciation.

CASE INTERESTS THE WOMEN

They Flock Into the House to See Roberts or Utah.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Why are the women so much interested in the Roberts case? This is one of the physiological problems of the day here in Washington. This morning a great crowd of women climbed the capitol hill. There were thousands of them. They all made straight for the hall of the house. They packed all the galleries and the overflow ran excitedly two and two seeking members from whom they might coax tickets to the reserve galleries. When the house met at noon it had such an audience of the fair sex as it had not seen since the opening day of the present session.

Of course Mr. Roberts was the center of attraction. At first he sat in a corner where only a few of the women could see him, and great was the disappointment thereat, but later he moved out in the central aisle and then content reigned in the galleries. The speeches were dry and uninteresting. They were lawyers' talks about the Constitution, the precedents and statutes. They were even dreary.

But the women sat patient and immovable. Not one went away and many came only to find it impossible to gain admission.

CARTER MUST SERVE OUT HIS TERM

United States Court of Appeals Dismissed the Habeas Corpus Proceedings Today.

New York, Jan. 24.—[Special Telegram.]—The United States circuit court of appeals of today affirmed the decision of Judge Lacombe, dismissing the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Oberlin E. Carter, convicted by a court martial of frauds in connection with government improvements. Carter has been sentenced to six years at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Davies Funeral Tomorrow

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—The body of Dr. John E. Davies, professor of electricity and magnetism and mathematical physics at the state university, was brought from Chicago last night. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

CALEDONIA SOCIETY HONORS BURNS

LARGE GATHERING LAST EVENING AT THE ARMORY.

Six Hundred People Honored the Man That All the Scotch People Love—Excellent Program Was Followed By a Dance—Entertainment Proved a Success in Every Way.

Members and friends of the Rock County Caledonian society assembled at the Armory last evening and celebrated in true Scotch style, the one hundred and forty-first anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns. Fully six hundred people were in attendance to enjoy the program and dance, and no one was disappointed. The program was a most excellent one from start to finish, and each number was liberally enjoyed.

Prof. Johnny Smith and his excellent orchestra opened the program by the rendering of Scotch airs.

Colin O. MacLean, as president of the society, made a brief address of welcome that was well received. He spoke of past celebrations held in this city in honor of Burns, and how of late years stormy weather had resulted in making the local celebrations a financial loss to the society.

James Kober of this city, sang "Ye Banks and Braes." His baritone voice proved most pleasing, and he was obliged to respond to a most hearty encore.

Rev. H. W. Thompson, former pastor of the First M. E. church in this city and who now makes his home in Pond-du Lac, was next on the program. He was introduced by President MacLean. Rev. Thompson gave a masterly address on Burns, Scotland and the Scotch race. His remarks met with strong approval in the shape of liberal applause.

Bessie McAlpine, of Chicago, sang, "Hame Came O'er Gudeman at E'en," a humorous character song which was well received.

Harry Brown, of Chicago, a dialect comedian, was next on the program with a number of German stories which demonstrated that Mr. Brown knows his business well. He was obliged to respond.

Mrs. Janet B. Day of this city, then recited "Sandy's Signal." Mrs. Day's recitations are always pleasing and her part of the program last evening was all that could be desired. Character songs, funny monologues, selected readings and a solo formed the second part of the program. Those who took part in the first part formed the talent for the second. Mr. C. F. Yates presided at the piano in her customary faultless manner.

Then followed the dance for which many of the young people had assembled. Smith's orchestra of seven pieces rendered the music and it was well towards morning when the last waltz was played. The Caledonian society has good reason to feel proud of their entertainment of last evening and no little credit is due the following people:

Committee of Arrangements—Colin C. MacLean, Dr. James Gibson Alexander Galbraith, Peter K. Caldwell, Geo. Skinner, John Harvey and L. L. Fletcher.

The floor was in charge of William E. Corneau, James R. Lamb, David Brown, Walter Little and Frank Gentle.

STEAMERTOWNSEND WRECKED

Passengers Saved After a Terrible Experience—Many Are Frozen.

Tucuman, Wash., Jan. 24.—The steamship Townsend, of 1,000 tons burden, plying between here and Alaska, was totally wrecked Thursday night off Haines Mission, Alaska, during the most severe storm that has raged along the Alaskan coast for years.

News of the disaster was brought by the steamer Cottage City, arriving late Tuesday night. When the Townsend struck she rolled over on her side, throwing many of her passengers into the icy water. The waves carried them to land. Many had their extremities frozen and all were nearly dead. Other passengers, together with the crew, escaped to shore with comparative safety.

The Townsend's passengers tramped across the ice to Haines' mission, a distance of four miles, and many were badly frozen. They secured assistance and returned to aid the passengers who had been thrown into the water. The steamship Rosalie sighted the wreck and immediately proceeded to rescue the crew and passengers. They were taken off in boats and will arrive here Thursday.

MACRUM HOLDS HIS TONGUE.

He Reaches Paris, but Refuses to Talk to Newspaper Men.

Paris, Jan. 24.—Mr. Macrum, formerly consul at Pretoria, who withdrew from office and is now returning to the United States, has arrived here and is stopping at the Powers hotel. He refuses to be interviewed. The fact that his arrival coincides with the hurried visit of Dr. Leyds, the diplomatic agent of the Transvaal, has set much gossip afloat, but it appears to be without foundation, both gentlemen appearing to be more intent on pleasure than business. There is every reason to believe that since leaving Pretoria, Mr. Macrum has maintained a discreet silence, though alleged interviews with him have been published by several newspapers.

Smallpox Spreading in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—The state health board and the governor have decided, in view of the refusal of many doctors and health officers in Clay and other counties where smallpox is raging, to impeach every officer who fails to do his duty in suppressing the contagion. Reports received here show that the epidemic is not under control, as is claimed, and that it is spreading in all directions.

Prof. Hughes Dead.

London, Jan. 24.—Prof. Edward Hughes, inventor of the Hughes printing telegraph instrument, discoverer of the microphone, now universally used as the transmitter on telephones, and inventor of the induction balance, died Tuesday night in this city. He was educated at Bardston college, Kentucky.

Will Not Lie in Westminster.

London, Jan. 24.—Ruskin's friends have declined to accept the offer of a burial place for him in Westminster abbey, as it was his wish to be interred in the churchyard at Coniston, but a memorial service will be held in the abbey on Thursday, the day of the funeral.

MANAGER FISHER ARRANGES SCHEDULE

WISCONSIN UNIVERSITY BASE BALL GAMES FOR 1900.

Janesville Boy Has Outlined a Program That Promises to Prove a Record Breaker—Excellent Teams Will Compete—Beloit Has Good Material For Team This Year.

Graduate Manager John L. Fisher of Wisconsin University has returned from Chicago, where he met athletic managers of other colleges and universities and arranged the following incomplete schedule of baseball games for the Wisconsin team:

Saturday, April 28—Illinois at Madison.
Saturday, May 5—Beloit at Beloit.
Saturday, May 12—Northwestern at Madison.
Thursday, May 17—Northwestern at Madison.
Thursday, May 17—Northwestern at Evanston.
Friday, May 18—Illinois at Cham-paign.
Tuesday, May 22—Chicago at Chicago.
Tuesday, May 29—Chicago at Madison.

Another game has also been scheduled with Beloit and two with Michigan for which the dates have not yet been fixed. One will be played at Ann Arbor and one at Madison.

Beloit may be taken on for a game in Milwaukee on May 30, and Dr. Hollister wants to play Wisconsin at Rockford, Saturday, May 26. In all about twenty-two games will be scheduled.

Beloit has material for what promises to be an excellent team for the season 1900. Jack Hollister, coach and manager of the Athletic department of Beloit college, returned today from the meeting of baseball managers at Chicago. Eleven games were arranged with Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern and Wisconsin. Hollister says that all the university teams will be faster than last year. He hopes, however, to keep Beloit well up with the best of them, but expects to meet the strongest kind of competition.

BAREFOOT SCOUTS.

The Macabebes, Filipino natives who fight with the Americans.

By John F. Willoughby.

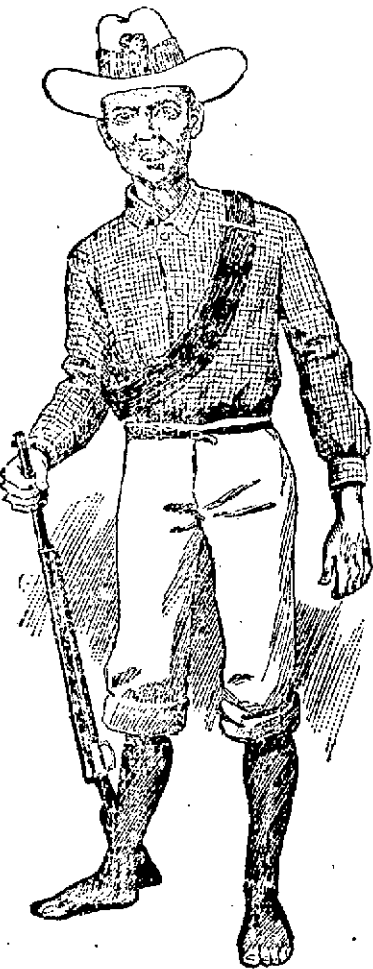

These natives have never been in sympathy with Aguinaldo's revolt. In fact, the Macabebes are ancient enemies of the Tagalogs. It was probably this enmity rather than any loyalty to the Americans which caused their loyalty to the stars and stripes.

The Macabebes seem to be somewhat superior to the Tagalogs. They are good fighters and highly intelligent. Like other natives, they are small of stature, the average height being about five feet. But they are brave and have kept their faith with Caelo Sam's army officers.

These little brown men have been very useful too. They have been employed chiefly as scouts. We have used them much as we used Indian scouts in our little difficulties with the Sioux and other troublesome tribes.

When Captain Batson of the Fourth cavalry organized his regiment of Macabebes scouts, there was much speculation among army officers as to whether the venture would prove a success or whether the Macabebes would prove like the American Indian scouts, unreliable. Many were of the opinion that the Macabebes would prove disloyal and that they would either sell or desert their arms and equipments.

Although as a race the Macabebes are enemies to the Tagalogs, there are many Macabebes who have married into Tagalog families and who, through domestic and commercial association, have forgotten the race feud and become strong friends of the Tagalogs.

It was feared, therefore, that some of these men would join the scouts to secure guns and ammunition and then desert and join the insurgents. Many Macabebes volunteered their services to the United States long before the present regiment was organized, and while it has been experimental, the Macabebes have been found both loyal and brave.

The organization is now recruited up to 200. There are four companies of 50 men each. Their uniform consists of a blue linen shirt, khaki trousers, a straw hat with a wide blue band and eagle ornament mounted on a dark blue shield of felt. They are armed with the Krag-Jorgensen carbine and wear the regulation web belt across the left shoulder instead of around the waist.

One of the first engagements in which the Macabebes took part as a body was when Captain Batson led them against the town of Calumpang, which was held by about 800 Filipinos. The order to charge was given, and the barefooted soldiers went forward silently and swiftly. The insurgent outposts were driven in, and Lieutenant Boutelle began his front attack. Captain Batson came in on the left toward the river.

There was a sharp and severe engagement. Then the enemy was routed and broke and ran. They were pursued until not even a vestige of their formation was left. Twenty-five insurgents were captured, and even a larger number were killed. Many Mausers were taken.

As scouts the Macabebes have proved very useful. The muddy roads do not seem to bother them at all, and they can get over flooded muddy fields at a remarkable rate of speed. They are thoroughly at home in the bamboo swamps and seem to know just where to look for the enemy. When the history of the Filipino-American war is written, the Macabebes should have much credit for the part they have played.

WABASH TRAINMEN MAY STRIKE

Want Higher Wages—Ask Politely by Get No Answer.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 24.—Engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen on the Wabash railroad threaten to strike unless their demand for higher wages is granted. The heads of the various organizations of trainmen have assembled in St. Louis and are awaiting the reply of President Ashley to the appeal made to him after Vice-President Ramsey refused to confer with them on the wage question. Ever since 1894 the trainmen of the Wabash have tried to get the management to give them a wage schedule as other roads have done. P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who acts as spokesman for the national officers, says: "We have always been careful and have never supported the men in a claim which was in the least unjust. If we had been granted a conference the whole matter would probably now be settled. I suppose Mr. Ramsey had good reasons for his action, but what they may be we have not the slightest idea. He offered us no explanation."

EX-GOVERNOR BRADLEY ANGRY.

Kentuckians Warned to Stay Away from Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 24.—Ex-Gov. Bradley, chief counsel for the republic, is angry over the stories that many men in western Kentucky were preparing to march on Frankfort as an armed body. "My advice is," he said, "for people who have no business at Frankfort to stay away from Frankfort. By filling up the town before this hearing is ended they will prevent a fair hearing of the evidence. Any orderly citizen has a right to come here and hear the arguments in the contests, but during the taking of testimony no embarrassment of the boards by reason of crowded rooms or interruptions should be countenanced."

AN ART TREASURE

Found in the House of a Man Forced to Sell His Effects.

New York Correspondence of the Chicago Times-Herald: Through the financial misfortunes of an old New Yorker a famous art treasure, Gerome's "Consummation Est," depicting the crucifixion of Christ on Mount Calvary, has been discovered in this city. Art connoisseurs say it is worth from $25,000 to $30,000. At any rate it means that its owner, whose name is not divulged, instead of spending the coming Christmas in penury, as he had anticipated, is at least sure of enough to satisfy his present wants. It was when this old New Yorker's affairs had reached such a stage that something had to be done, and that right quickly, that he sent for Clarence M. Darling of 124 West Twenty-sixth street. Mr. Darling found him disconsolate in his home. He related his troubles and said that all he saw in store was to sell his furniture, tapestries and bronzes, the remnant of a once magnificent collection. Mr. Darling glanced around the rooms and saw at once that not much could be realized, but as he was about to take his leave his eye suddenly caught a glimpse of what appeared to be a dust-covered painting carelessly resting on the top of a wardrobe in a corner of the room. "What's that up there?" he asked, climbing on a chair and taking the painting down. The painting, while dust covered and dim, upon inspection proved to be in good condition and none the worse for its hard usage. Mr. Darling had not examined the canvas long when he uttered an exclamation of astonishment, and declared that if its genuineness could be authentically established it was easily to be valued at not less than $25,000 to $30,000. Mr. Darling recognized in one corner of the canvas the name of J. L. Gerome, and subject as no other than the master's "Consummation Est," "Shadow of the Cross," or crucifixion of Christ on Mount Calvary. As to the genuineness of the painting, its owner recalled the fact that in his possession was an autograph letter from Gerome, describing the painting and the circumstances under which it was painted.

In Memory of Henry G. Lloyd

A committee from La Prairie Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, has prepared the following resolutions in memory of the late Henry G. Lloyd:

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has seen fit in His all wise providence, to remove Brother Henry G. Lloyd from our midst to the great grange above, December 26, 1899; therefore

Resolved, That we realize that his family have met with a great loss; for he was a kind and indulgent husband and father; the community have lost a respected and trustworthy citizen; the grange, a trusty and efficient secretary, who had served in that capacity for three years, and his books have been found in excellent condition, and his reports satisfactory to the order.

Resolved, in regular session, that they realize that what we have all lost will, we trust, be in the end, his gain, do hereby extend our sincere sympathy and condolence to the members of his family and all his friends in their great bereavement, and we trust and hope that the Great Healer will in time heal the wounds made by his very sudden departure from our midst.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for the space of sixty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and also the Rock county papers for publication, and that they be spread upon the records of the grange.

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhalant mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood.

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes: "I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different inhalant remedies. In fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous."

"Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was unreasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, which has never done them any good, and take S. S. S., a remedy that can reach the disease and cure it."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's—Crowning Virtue.

Buxton, Mo., July 27. For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

PRETENDED FRIENDS.

Chicago Inter-Ocean.—The Boers, gallantly struggling against great odds in defense of republican institutions in South Africa, may well pray to be delivered from their pretended friends in the United States. There is widespread and deserved sympathy in this country for the Boers, but the motives of a lot of small-bore democratic congressmen in their present attempt to use that sentiment to make political capital against the republican administration are so plain as to disgust thinking Americans. The effort to turn just sympathy with the Boers into the upholding of the Tagal rebels is not likely to help the Boers, and will probably react against the demagogues concerned in the movement.

The aggregation of little Americans and shirkers of national duties and slanderers of American soldiers which figured so conspicuously in a public meeting held in Washington on Sunday evening was supposed to be non-partisan, but it was noted that Senator Mason was the only republican member of congress present, and that all the other speakers were democrats and avowed sympathizers with Aguinaldo. Mason, who howled in season and out of season for war with Spain and now reviles the great majority of his countrymen for refusing to shirk the natural consequences of that war, said two words for the Tagal murderers of prisoners to one for the Boers, and insulted his own country by declaring that "the American eagle has lately taken to eating carrion." Hale, whose opposition to Cuban freedom earned him the title of "the senator from Spain," sent a letter indorsing the utterances of the meeting.

Champ Clark of Missouri, a rabid Bryanite, declared that the reason this government did not express official sympathy with the Boers was "because England is a robber nation; we are ambitious to become a robber nation, and all robber nations must stand together." Allen of Nebraska, who holds his seat in the senate by a brazen thwarting of the will of the people of that state; Bailey of Texas, De Armond and Cochran of Missouri, and Rhea of Kentucky, all Aguinaldites, joined the chorus. Lentz of Ohio, the foul mouthed and convicted slanderer of American soldiers, wanted the United States to declare war, "take Canada, and give England the benefit of our 'beneficent assimilation' policy."

The American people need no advice as to their attitude toward the Boers from applauders of arson and assassination in Luzon. The democratic attempts to advocate rebellion in the Philippines under pretense of sympathy with the Boers will be taken by the American people at their true value. Human nature is so constituted that the best cause is often damned by the obvious insincerity and ulterior motives of its advocates. Hence the Boers may well pray: "Deliver us from our professed American friends, who are saying two words for Aguinaldo to one for us, and are 'playing politics' with our life and death struggle."

Once upon a Time a Foolish Ostrich conceived the idea that when its head was thrust into the sand, it was completely hidden, but the Hunter saw it and killed it. Moral—The apologist organ cannot hide the defects of the local constabulary arrangement by sticking its head under the blankets and leaving its feet in the air.

The Milwaukee Journal, it should also be noted, publishes its "Comments, by a Republican," on the right side of the editorial page, while the independent matter appears on the left side. This is as it should be. Republican doctrine is generally accepted as right, while independent comment goes "over the left."

There appears to be some conflict of evidence in the matter of the late hunt for a policeman, but in spite of the fact that two different tales are told, the admission is generally made that the policeman was harder to find than would have been the case under a better system.

"Bryan Carries Oil" is the heading in a Chicago paper. As the colonel is in New York to attend the Tammany pow-wow it would not appear to be necessary to carry his oil with him. Tammany is supposed to have a few bottles of oil of its own.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what has been said around the globe when he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to postoffice, Kodak agents.

Colombian Revolt Continues.
New York, Jan. 24.—The latest advices from Colombia are to the effect that Gen. Herrera, chief of the revolution, fought a successful battle in Santander Jan. 16 and 17 with 10,000 government troops, though he had only 6,000 men.

Gen. Herrera, who was wounded in the engagement, admits the loss of 750 men in killed and wounded, but claims the government lost 1,700 in killed and wounded, and that he took 900 prisoners. The revolutionists hope to capture the capital by the end of April.

Veteran Vainly Tortured by Robbers.
Dayton, Ohio, Jan. 24.—A war veteran, Cash Barry, was badly tortured by robbers at his home in Farmersville, this county, Monday night in the belief that he had a treasure consisting of hoarded pension money and back pay concealed about the premises. They burned his feet and hands with red-hot irons and left him writhing in agony after securing only $10. Officers have no trace of the robbers. Barry is in a critical condition from his burns.

Jury Gives Wife Saver $1,000 Reward.
Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 24.—Last spring David Hiley and wife, wealthy residents of Grant county, drove off a bridge during high water. Hiley swam to shore, but his wife was carried away by the torrent. Hiley screamed for help, and offered $1,000 reward for his wife's rescue. Ben Rutherford went to the aid of the drowning woman and dragged her to land alive, but Hiley refused to pay the reward. Rutherford sued and on Tuesday was awarded judgment for the full amount.

Stores Burned at Burr Oak.
Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 24.—The general stores of W. F. Williams, Redwine & Co. and Frank Overmeyer at Burr Oak, Ind., were destroyed by fire. The estimated loss is: Williams $8,000, insurance $4,000; Redwine no insurance, estimated loss $5,000; Overmeyer carried $10,000 on building, none on stock. It is believed that the Redwine store was burglarized before the fire was discovered, and the other store buildings caught from this one.

Great Damage by Flood.
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 24.—Official reports just completed give details of terrible inundations which destroyed property valued at over 6,000,000 yen in Hokkaido province, northern Japan, in December. Thirty-five towns in the district of Ishikari were devastated. Since September no fewer than 17,283 houses have been submerged or washed away in Hokkaido alone, while the total damage is placed at 13,000,000 yen.

MYSTERY OF TANGANYIKA.

Lake Whose Waters Are 26 Feet Lower Than 20 Years Ago.

Father Daull, a Roman Catholic missionary at Lake Tanganyika, one of the large lakes of central Africa, writes that since 1897 the level of the lake has fallen about twenty-six feet. The natives are now cultivating banana patches for about a half mile lakeward on land that twenty years ago was covered by the lake. In other words, the width of the lake has been diminished about a mile throughout its length of 400 miles. Fort Karema was built on a hill whose base was lapped by the waves of Tanganyika, but now a gently sloping, cultivated plain stretches between the fort and the lake. At present the level of the lake appears to be stationary, for there has been no perceptible change within a year or more. All the evidence tends to show that Tanganyika is subject to periodical rise and fall of level due to meteorological causes that are not fully understood. For a period of years the water receipts of the lake are steadily less than its outflow and the evaporation from its surface, and then the lake recedes, the head of the Lukuga becomes choked with vegetation, no water enters the river from the lake and it partly dries up, as it receives only the drainage of its valley. This was the condition of things when Stanley visited the Lukuga in 1876. But the lake had been rising then for a number of years. The succeeding cycle was in progress when the water receipts were steadily greater than the evaporation. Stanley said that if the lake continued to rise, in two or three years more it would burst through the vegetable barrier at the head of the Lukuga and once more contribute its waters to the Congo. This actually happened, as Missionary Hore and the explorer Thomson discovered, and almost simultaneously, the succeeding period of deficient water supply came in and the lake has been falling ever since. It seems to have reached the turning point again and we may soon expect to hear that the level of Tanganyika is rising.—New York Sun.

AMERICAN PULP.

England Is Dependent on It for Her Newspapers.

S. Charles Phillips of London, England, is in St. Paul in the interests of a trip that is to be made to this country next summer by a party of British newspaper proprietors and publishers, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. He is attending to the preliminaries and arranging for the reception of the sixty members of the party that will be in St. Paul in June. There will be included the proprietors and representatives of all of the largest newspaper and publishing houses in the kingdom, and they are coming to the United States for the purpose of investigating our methods and with the intention of arranging for the purchase of paper supplies in this country. "England is at present dependent upon the continent for its supply of pulp from which to make paper," said Mr. Phillips. "We have not the quantity nor the quality of wood necessary for the manufacture of the paper we need. We have secured the larger portion of our supply of pulp for newspapers from Scandinavia. Nearly all of the fine paper came from Germany until recently, when the United States entered the market. Ten years ago not an ounce of pulp was secured in the United States by England. Today thousands of tons of it are being shipped over each year. The finer qualities of pulp made in this country are the best in the market. It is a fact that American factories are today shipping to the German towns from which ten years ago this country received its high-grade paper material. It is the intention of the publishers that are to visit this country next summer to inspect the important paper factories in the United States and Canada, with a view to securing an intelligent understanding of the situation, and making arrangements for securing their future supplies."

A Mile a Minute.

Sixty miles an hour is the merest commonplace to the mind of the up-to-date railroad man, but it means other things besides those described that are wonderful to the outsider. It means a steam pressure of twenty tons on each piston head every tenth of a second. It means that up in the cab the fireman is throwing into the furnace two-thirds of a ton of coal every hour; one engine burns coal faster than ten men can mine it. It means two quarts of oil every hour to keep her journal box greased and everything running smoothly.

Chili Sauce.

To make chili sauce, peel and cut into pieces 20 large nearly ripe tomatoes and place them in a porcelain or agate kettle. Chop five good sized onions, three large green peppers and two red peppers fine, put them with the tomatoes and add two and a half cups of vinegar. Place the kettle over the fire and let the contents slowly simmer from two and a half to three hours. When the mixture has been cooking two hours, add to it two tablespoonfuls of salt, one large cup of brown sugar, one teaspoonful each of cloves and allspice and one tablespoonful of cinnamon. When cold, put into jars and cover.

ALLEGED ROBBERS DENY THE CHARGE

SAY BELOIT OFFICERS HAVE MADE BIG MISTAKE.

Will Come Before Judge Fifield on February 2—Officers Claim to Have Strong Evidence Against the Prisoners—Two Have Been Placed Under Arrest Before.

Edward Devers, Michael Tobin and William Campbell of Beloit, are now occupying cells in the Rock county jail on the charge of highway robbery. At Beloit the prisoners waived examination, and on February 2 they will appear before Judge C. L. Fifield of the Rock county municipal court.

Yesterday afternoon the prisoners were brought to Janesville by Marshal George Appleby and placed in jail. The robbery was committed in Beloit, an account of which was published in The Gazette of last evening.

The accused deny having had any connection with the crime, and say that when the proper time comes they will prove their innocence.

Miss Sarah Snyder of Beloit, was the victim Saturday night of footpads, who attempted to rob her while she was on her way home from Potter Bros' store, where she is a clerk. A more bold or dastardly attempt to hold up a person has never been reported in Beloit.

It is said that Miss Snyder has identified the men now under arrest as her assailants. Tobin has been arrested before and from Rock county was sent to the state's prison for one year for burglary. Campbell has been in jail before and is a barber by trade. Devers has a better reputation than his two companions.

All three men are residents of Beloit and are well known to the police.

HAS FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND

Citizens Mutual Has That Many Dollars' Worth in Force

Last evening was held the annual meeting of the Citizens' Mutual Fire Insurance company. This company now has in force over $500,000 worth of fire insurance. At the meeting C. W. Van Akin was elected a director for three years. W. G. Palmer was elected for three years, to take the place of the late I. C. Brownell. H. J. Cunningham was elected a director to fill out the unexpired term of R. M. Bostwick, Jr., who tendered his resignation.

The board of directors will meet Friday, January 26, at 4:30 p. m., to elect a president and secretary and attend to any other business that may come before them.

CONSIDERABLE TOBACCO HERE

Several Thousand Dollars Worth Brought to Janesville Today by Growers.

Several thousand dollars worth of leaf tobacco was brought into Janesville today and delivered to the local dealers. Much of this tobacco was purchased for the American Tobacco company and will be shipped in the bundle to their headquarters in Cincinnati. Last week this one firm shipped 75,000 pounds out of this city to their Ohio factory, where the goods are made into cigars, plug tobacco and cigarettes. At one time this morning fully 100 wagon loads were in the vicinity of the Milwaukee road's freight depot waiting to be unloaded.

GRAVE DIGGING MADE EASY

Mild Weather This Winter Froze the Ground But Eighteen Inches.

Sexton Robert W. Scott of Oak Hill cemetery, says that grave digging has not been as difficult this winter as in years past. This is owing to the mild weather which has prevailed during the greater portion of the winter. Mr. Scott says that the ground at no time this winter has been frozen to a greater depth than eighteen inches. Last winter it was frozen several feet deeper. The number of graves dug this winter will not equal the excavations made last winter.

FINISH CEMETERY CHAPEL

Oak Hill Now Has a Building Where Services May Be Held

Work on the chapel in Oak Hill cemetery was finished yesterday and the edifice is now ready to be furnished. The structure is a model one in every respect and will cost complete not far from $3000. Two of its large church windows as are to be found in the city are in the chapel. Janesville stone has been used on the outside, while the interior is finished in red birch wood. In the spring the grounds surrounding the chapel will be graded and improved.

FARMERS ANXIOUS OVER ROAD SURVEY

MILWAUKEE ROAD'S LINE WORK TO BE RUSHED.

With the Opening of Spring the Work of Building to Janesville Will Be Taken in Hand By a Large Force—Emerald Grove Citizens Claim Line Will Pass Through Their Village.

Rock county farmers are much interested in the route to be followed by the new Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul main line. Many surveys have been made and various routes have been laid out. One line, it is said, went through Emerald Grove, while another goes a mile and a half south. The people of the Grove are much interested, and would naturally like to know which line will be adopted.

Janesville people are also interested in the line selected for reaching this city, as two routes have been laid out. Track laying on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul's extension to Fox lake has been finished and the new line will be ballasted and opened for traffic as soon as possible. The distance from Chicago to the beach of the lake is fifty miles. It is expected that the new line will revolutionize transportation to Fox lake. Heretofore a stage ride of from seven, to ten miles was necessary to reach the resort.

The St. Paul line strikes Fox lake at a point where the other lakes in the group are easily accessible. The road is almost a level level its entire length. Much attention has been given the bed, with the result that there are few curves. This will permit trains to run at a high rate of speed. An elaborate terminal station will be built at the lake and all steamers will land there.

An express train service between Chicago and the lake will be inaugurated about May 1. It is planned to run trains at a speed that will enable a person to leave the lake after breakfast, come to Chicago and return to the lake in time for luncheon.

Farmers along the new line are organizing improvement associations to better the roads and enhance the value of their property. It is said that several new hotels are to be built. At Longlake, on the line of the new extension, the Milwaukee & St. Paul company has purchased 200 acres of land. This will be laid out by an expert landscape gardener and the place featured as a picnic ground.

E. E. FINNEY ASKED TO RESIGN PLACE

SEVERAL MAKE APPLICATION FOR ALLER'S POSITION.

Superintendent of the Rock County Asylum Expects to Leave About the First of Next Month—Local Residents Are Striving Hard For the Vacant Place.

E. E. Finney, for four years steward at the Northern hospital for the insane at Oshkosh, has been asked to resign by the state board of control. He will leave February 1. His successor will be Arthur Aller, for some time superintendent of the Rock County asylum at Janesville. Finney is a veteran of the rebellion, and a member of the Iron brigade.

Just who will be chosen to fill the position of superintendent of the Rock County asylum, remains to be seen. There is no lack of applicants; several are after the position. Certain residents of Janesville are striving hard for the place.

SUBMIT BECAUSE IT IS LAW

Senator Lindsay's Advice to the Kentucky Republicans

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 24.—Senator Lindsay of Kentucky has decided views as to the situation in this state. Although there is no doubt, he says, that Taylor was elected, he counsels the republicans to yield as gracefully as possible in case the Kentucky legislature declares Goebel elected. He bases his advice upon the following logic: The legislature is the constitutional agent for determining the result of a governorship election. If the legislature reaches a conclusion which is wrong and unjust, the republicans should nevertheless submit, because it is law.

If they do not submit, and Taylor attempts to hold the office of governor, Goebel will simply have to say: "Oh, well, it is inconvenient for me not to have the archives and the room and the seat, but I am governor just the same." So he may set up his office in a hotel and start in as governor of Kentucky. The legislature will recognize him and the courts will have to recognize him, and thus he will be actually governor, while Taylor's pretensions, at first bordering on tragedy, will soon become ridiculous.

If the republicans submit, on the other hand, says Senator Lindsay, if they bow to the law because it is law, the indignant people of Kentucky will smother Goebel and the democratic party into small pieces at the next election. "Seizure of the governorship by Goebel means Kentucky for McKinley as sure as fate," says Senator Lindsay.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC HERE.

Several Cases Are Now Being Treated By the Local Physicians.

Local physicians report several cases of measles in the city at present. One west side physician says that he has a dozen cases in his charge and he knows of others. Several severe cases of fever are also reported as well as many whooping cough.

It is well at this time to impress upon the physicians the importance of promptly reporting to the health officer any suspicious cases as well as cases about which there can be no doubt. Our physicians have always taken great interest in preventing the spread of contagious diseases but it can work no harm to remind them of the care which is essential.

MUST SECURE NEW ENGINEER

Mr. Brown Says He Would Not Remain Under Any Circumstances

City Engineer Perry F. Brown, whose resignation is in the hands of the common council, states that he will under no circumstances re-enter the employ of the city of Janesville. With the conditions as such the judiciary committee of the council can take no other steps than accept the resignation and look for a new man to fill the place. He says that he has another position in view, and that he is not worrying but what the city will pay him in full what he due him for services rendered. Mr. Brown entered the employ of the city as civil engineer in the summer of 1897.

Mrs. Stacy Now of Santiago Visiting Her Mother in This City.

Mrs. H. L. Stacy, who of late has made her home in Santiago, Cuba, is visiting in the city the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. W. Hodgdon, 58 Terrace street. While at Santiago Mrs. Stacy was taken ill with fever and for fear that it would develop into a more serious disease she was advised to make the trip to Janesville. In speaking of Santiago Mrs. Stacy says that the city is fast giving way to American ways owing to the large number of Americans who are daily arriving.

PRESENTED WITH CASH PURSE

Local Friends Surprise Lyman D. Prichard Who is Now Seriously Ill.

Kindness on the part of local friends resulted in the presentation of a purse to Lyman D. Prichard who is seriously ill at his South Main street home. The purse amounted to about $115 and was presented as an act of true friendship and not charity. The money was raised among intimate friends only and was quickly gathered by E. J. Smith and Frank Wheelock. Mr. Prichard is ill with heart trouble and his condition is of a most serious nature.

BUILD ANOTHER WAREHOUSE

Eastern Representatives Have Been Here This Week With a View to Building.

Prominent eastern leaf tobacco representatives have been in Janesville of late for the purpose of looking over the ground with a view of erecting a large warehouse here ranking this city their headquarters for buying Wisconsin leaf tobacco. In case these parties decide on a location here it will mean the erection of a model warehouse, second to none in this section of the country. This eastern firm have also been looking at sites in Edgerton and Stoughton.

JAMES GARDNER SUES WILCOX ESTATE

CLAIMS LUMBER WAS STOLEN FROM HIS BARN.

Alleges That the Late Charles T. Wilcox Took the Lumber to Repair His West Side Buildings—Richardson Shoe Company Case—Other Matters Before the Court.

James Gardner, the North Bluff street blacksmith, has commenced an action in the circuit court of Rock county against the estate of Charles T. Wilcox for the collection of a lumber bill amounting to about $70.

Mr. Gardner alleges that he rented the basement of his North Bluff street shop to the late Charles T. Wilcox and that in February, 1896, Mr. Wilcox took considerable lumber from the interior of the barn that was used in the construction of box stalls. This lumber, it is alleged, Mr. Wilcox took to the west side of the river using it to repair buildings owned by him.

When the case was called this morning the following witnesses were examined on the part of the plaintiff. James Gardner, John Cunningham, George Barriago, John Masterson, Robert Reed and David Conger.

The court will render its decision later.

On reading the affidavit of Miles Malone and on motion of attorneys for the plaintiff the court ordered that said mortgage be and the same is hereby released.

In the case of the A. Richardson Shoe Company on reading and filing the petition of the Washington Shoe Company of Massachusetts, the court ordered that said petition be made a party plaintiff herein and that it make and file a statement of its claim against defendant prior to any judgment therein.

In the circuit court of Rock county today, on reading the petition of Stas Loveland and the affidavit of William B. West, and on motion of J. D. Dunwiddie of Monroe, for petitioner, the court ordered that the mortgage described in the petition be fully released and discharged. A copy of this order was ordered recorded in the office of the register of deeds in Green county.

THE BOER WOMAN

How She Is Reared and Educated • How She Is Wooed and Wedded and How She Lives in Peace and in War.

BY ROSA C. EICHORN.

In common with the men of their race the Boer women retain the simple and conservative ways of their fathers. As their lives are passed in a faraway and isolated country doubtless they are more tenacious of the old customs and habits than their sisters in the land of dikes and windmills. But with all that has been written and said detrimental to the descendants of a race of people strong and brave enough to struggle against nature and wrenth from the very arms of the sea a home such as their persistency has made of Holland the true state of affairs will "out."

The exigencies of the present war in South Africa reveal the true character not only of the men at arms, but of the Boer women and their political as well as social importance.

It goes without saying that a race of only about 50,000 fighting men which dares to defy the power of England was bred by women of no common mold—women who have braved hardship and want, who have turned their time. They are inordinately fond of music and dancing. The violin is their especial delight.

On the slightest pretext, or none at all, they arrange for a "dance hall party." The young men and women gather from all the surrounding farms and prepare themselves for pleasure. Little if any party dressing is done, the men wearing their farm clothes and the women their workaday gowns, to which have been added embroidered apron and fresh cap. No square dances are introduced. After hours of slow whirling the youths retire to their wagons and the stables, the women to the couple of unoccupied rooms, for much needed rest. At intervals the dancing is renewed. Refreshments, consisting of coffee and sweet cakes, are served, and after 24 hours of jollity the company disperses.

As a rule, the South African Dutch women do not approach the fresh beauty of their European sisters. Here and there you will find a handsome girl, but not often. Her complexion is dull and pale, and she is strangely afraid of exposing her face and hands to the sun, wearing a large poke bonnet and hiding her hands under her apron on every available opportunity.

Yet, despite her plain appearance, the Boer woman is a model daughter and wife and is cherished beyond price by the fortunate man who wins her. Betrothal and wedding ceremonies are peculiar. A suitor is expected to sit up all night with the girl of his choice. Where the home is a modest one, father, mother, brothers and sisters sit about the room, and the young couple have much to contend with. But even though the youthful lover may have such embarrassing conditions it does not follow that he will be accepted, for it frequently happens that on closer acquaintance the lady is not inclined to accept her parents' choice. By her decision the suitor must abide, for the Boer father would not force his daughter into an unhappy alliance.

Long candles of mutton are placed on the table and beside them a large kettle of coffee, which serves as refreshment during the hours of the night. About midnight the wooer and wooed are left by themselves if the parents are wealthy and have other rooms for sleeping; if not, they are left sitting up, while the others seek rest on improvised beds or even on the floor.

It is amazing how many people will gather together when a wedding is celebrated. Guns are fired upon the return of the wedding party and dancing is indulged in. The blushing pair is solemnly led to the nuptial chamber amid good wishes, handshaking and cheers. The rejoicing lasts for 24 hours; refreshments and dancing are the simple entertainments offered. With the morning and the departure of bride and groom for their own home the guests finally disperse.

Living away in the veldt the Boer woman has little need of education. Able to read the Bible and to write her name, the average woman is well equipped from an educational standpoint. Happily during late years the girls of the well to do class are being sent to seminaries at Cape Town, where they receive a much better education and imbibe the ideas of the women from the old world.

The woman of the Transvaal is an undreamed of power in her household, and this later means of education is strengthening her tremendous force. While the movements for the advancement of women which have swept over Europe and America have not been liberally received in the Boer state, still the women there are awake to their higher duties and opportunities. They respond to the new demands caused by the war and are being broadened by contact with new conditions.

In war they are to the fighting men of their families what the Indian squaws are to their warriors, faithful helpers and attendants. When an Indian's pony is shot in battle, his squaw brings up a fresh one, and if her brave is himself wounded she carries him out of danger and tends to his hurts.

This is substantially the position of the Boer women in South Africa. They form a mighty reserve both to the physical and moral forces of the army in the field. Women at the heads of the best households in the land are in the army hospitals as volunteer nurses.

That "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" that "Order is heaven's first law" that "God will punish the unjust and give strength to the righteous" are the sum total of the Boer's belief. A brave, strong race of men is evidence that pure and noble womanhood is in the background.

CLIMAX IN ROBERTS CASE.

The Celebrated Polygamist Makes Sensational Speech.

SAYS HIS CAUSE IS GOD'S CAUSE

Intends to Cling "So Closely to the Pillars of Liberty That If He Falls Liberty Will Fall With Him"—General Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 24.—A sensational climax was reached in the Roberts case in the house of representatives Tuesday when the defendant, in his speech in reply to his accusers, declared that his cause was the cause of God, and that he would regard an invitation to abandon his present course or to retract a single step taken in its advancement as impious as an invitation to renounce God that he might gain earthly honor or emolument. The galleries and the floor of the house were packed with a throng attracted by the knowledge that the star of the occasion was to take the center of the stage, and Mr. Roberts' vehement and sensational declaration was received with a storm of mingled cheers and hisses from the multitude assembled.

When the reports of the majority and minority of the committee had been read and advocated Mr. Roberts rose to present his claims to a seat in congress. His commanding presence and magnificent voice won instant and close attention. He began by saying he was in a position to say "a plague on both your houses," for the position of neither majority nor minority suited him. He would like the house to adopt the argument of the majority against expulsion and that of the minority against exclusion, not only with regard to what had been said, but what would be said and done in the further consideration of the case. (Laughter.) Entering upon the serious discussion of the matter, Roberts quoted from the findings of the committee, and asked if, "without a violation of the constitution of our country, you can deny me the right to appear at the bar of the house, from which I have been improperly turned away, and prevent me from being sworn."

The house, he continued, was subject to a great temptation at this time to respond to the popular will without regard to the limitations imposed by the constitution. Other great and proud nations, as much so as the United States, had for violations of this kind gone into decay, and naught but ruins mark the places they once occupied. "And so I would warn you of the danger of the departing from the constitution to respond to the clamor of misguided people." What was proposed in the house now, Roberts said, was that because in the sanctity of the church men have taken a plurality of wives, one of whom has been elected a representative in congress, and the sanctity of the home is threatened, a more lawless act than polygamy shall be done to rebuke the man so elected. Mr. Roberts said, as he had said on the second day of the session, that he did not stand here as the advocate or defender of polygamy.

The people who believed and practiced polygamy, he said, did so as a part of their religion, which they believed came to them direct from God. In that view they had not at first submitted to the laws against it, hoping for a favorable judgment by the court, and, when that failed, for a reversal. But the resolution did not come, and the public sentiment became more extended and hardened. Thirteen hundred Mormons in Utah suffered punishment by the courts, including the representative from that state.

"They need not have suffered," he went on, "if they had but said the word. When I stood before the court, a leading jurist of the state said: 'This man need not go to jail if he will but say he will abandon the institution.' I recognized it as a kindness on his part, but (passionately exhibiting the most heat and force in the course of his address until the close) had I done so it would have been like deserting the cause of God."

The expression fell with startling effect upon his hearers, the silence on the floor being broken by mingled applause and hisses in the galleries. "I could not be untrue to that religious conviction which had been instilled in me from boyhood up. And that is the motive of whatever of lawlessness I may have been guilty of."

Roberts pleaded that the men who had suffered thus must not be judged too harshly. Since the famous manifesto against plural marriages, he asserted, they had ceased in Utah despite all that had been said and charged to the contrary. The abandonment of the institution of polygamy had meant death to some of its advocates, and the heartaches which had attended the proceeding had caused many others to hope that the same solution of the problem might come to them.

In conclusion, Roberts said he could neither be excluded nor expelled without dangerous action—action that threatened to overthrow the foundation of government. "And I intend, gentlemen," he continued, his voice rising to its highest pitch and his whole manner intense and dramatic to the last degree, striding up and down the aisle, "to cling so closely to the pillars of liberty that you shall not drag me away unless you pull the pillars down with me. Under the constitution you have neither the power to exclude nor to expel. Some of the papers in discussing this case have urged that I be sent forth from this hall branded with shame. God has reserved unto himself the power to brand with shame, and the power of this house, great as it is, does not reach to that. If to satisfy sectarian clamor that has been raised in this case you send me forth, I shall go out with unfaltering tread, head erect, brow defiant and walk the streets as the angels walk the clouds before their God. (Mingled applause and hisses). If in violation of the constitution you should vote to exclude or expel me, all the shame there is in the transaction will be left behind me in the house of representatives."

The debate on the reports submitted by the Roberts committee will be continued till Thursday, when a vote will be taken.

A bill introduced in the house Tuesday provides for the reorganization of the consular service on the merit system. It divides the consuls into six classes, with salaries ranging from $5,000 to $15,000, and provides that those now in the service are to be examined within two years as to their fitness for the offices. Tenure of office is made dependent upon good behavior, and promotions on the merit system.

MAJORITY AGAINST QUAY. Unbroken Precedents Since Foundation of Government.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The minority and majority reports of the senate committee on privileges and elections, in the case of Matthew S. Quay of Pennsylvania were offered today. Chairman Turley (Tenn.) submitted a resolution declaring that Mr. Quay is not entitled to take his seat. Mr. Turley also called attention to the contrary resolution of the minority. The majority report was signed by Senators Caffery, Pettus, Turley, Harris and Burrows, the last-named being the only republican signing it. The minority report was signed by Senators Hoar, Chandler, Pritchard and McComas, all republicans, and advocates giving the seat to Mr. Quay.

WANT FREE TRADE WITH PUERTO RICO.

Washington, Jan. 24.—There was a long discussion at the meeting of the cabinet Tuesday afternoon regarding the proposed legislation for Puerto Rico. The president and members of the cabinet are still firm in the belief that industrial and commercial conditions in the island would be relieved by free trade between Puerto Rico and the United States, and they are anxious that congress enact the desired legislation without unnecessary delay.

BULLER BREAKS SILENCE.

The Battle Still Rages Along the Tugela River.

BOERS MAKE DESPERATE FIGHT

Attempt to Carry Their Trenches Was to Be Made Tuesday Night—The Result Is Anxiously Awaited in London.

London, Jan. 24, 6 a. m.—The war office at 2:30 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning posted the following dispatch received from Gen. Sir Redvers Buller: "Spearman's Camp, Jan. 23, 6:20 p. m.—Warren holds the positions he gained two days ago. In front of him, at about 1,400 yards, is the enemy's position west of Spion kop. It is on higher ground than Warren's position. It is impossible to see into it properly. It can only be approached over bare, open slopes.

"The ridges held by Warren are so steep that guns cannot be placed on them, but we are shelling the enemy's position with Howitzers and field artillery. The enemy reply with Creusot and other artillery. In this duel the advantage rests with us, as we appear to be searching his trenches, and his artillery is not causing us much loss.

"An attempt will be made tonight to seize Spion kop, the salient which forms the left of the enemy's position. Facing Trichard's drift and dividing it from the position facing Potgieter's drift, it has considerable command of all the enemy's entrenchments."

London, Jan. 24, 6 a. m.—After a most anxious day for the entire British nation, from the laborer to the cabinet minister, the war office this (Wednesday) morning, at a quarter past 2 o'clock, gave out the dispatch from Gen. Buller quoted above, which, if not what had been hoped and prayed for, was not what had been feared since the veil of silence fell upon the field of battle last Monday. Gen. Warren, it appears, has not been able to make much progress since that day, owing to the strength of the Boer entrenchments, but has succeeded in holding the ground which he had won.

Evidently his position is perilous, for Gen. Buller, telegraphing at twenty minutes past 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, stated that an attack upon Spion kop, the center of the Boer position, would be made Tuesday night.

By this time, if Sir Redvers' intentions were carried out, the attack has been made and the British have either struck a decisive blow for the relief of Ladysmith or have, as was the case with their previous night attacks, been forced back by the rifle blasts from the Boer trenches.

The long silence and the admission that Gen. Warren has been unable to gain further ground by methods employed during the four days of previous fighting, and that he had not been able to advance for two days, all indicate that Gen. Buller determined to make a night attack as a dernier resort.

Before midnight rumors flew thick and fast. A great crowd gathered at the war office, only to be told that there was no intelligence to impart. Mr. Balfour was one of the callers.

The reports during Tuesday afternoon, which upset the stock exchange, to the effect that Gen. Warren had been defeated and had lost two battalions as prisoners, while not believed, had a marked effect upon the nerves of the public.

Gen. Buller's long silence still further increased the gloom. No news could have been thought good news in this case, for the reason that when Gen. Buller's advance was progressing favorably for the British arms there was plenty of news.

When London will know the result of the night attack will depend largely upon whether the British are successful. If victorious Gen. Buller is not likely to lose much time in notifying the government, and the news should reach here some time Wednesday morning. If he be thrown back there is no telling how many hours may elapse.

As to the fighting, all intelligence received in London Tuesday came through Boer sources.

From the Boer laager before Ladysmith came the information that there had been engagements on the Oliviershoek road, between Gen. Pretorius and a British force estimated at 5,000 men, and that brisk fighting had been going on at Spion Kop, whither Gens. Batha and Cronje are in command.

The Boers have evidently made this point the key of their resistance, and the struggle on its slope is expected to be as desperate war as any that has hitherto been done during the war. The result of the projected attempt to seize it is awaited with anxiety, which is increased by the remembrance of the disastrous nature of some previous attacks on Boer positions, and the riskiness of such operations at all times. It is curious to note, in the dispatches from the Boer side, the almost triumphant manner in which it is declared that the Boers did not respond to the British artillery. Their admissions of losses, including the apparently significant sentence, "Nor did the generals escape unscathed," are unprecedented. Gens. Jonbert and Vallabois are not mentioned as having been concerned in the operations, which according to one

Boer account, are being effected by Gen. Pretorius.

The correspondents of the Times and Standard, in dispatches from Ladysmith, dated Jan. 22, do not mention the reported destruction of Gen. White's quarters by Boer shells. They say that the garrison listens to the booming of Buller's guns, but are completely ignorant of the details of the engagement.

There is no change in Ladysmith itself. The Boers' siege guns still bombard the town, and the investment does not appear to be relaxed. The British have consequently ceased to speculate on the precise date of their deliverance.

From no source is the needed confirmation of the Daily Mail's Lisbon story forthcoming. In an editorial note on this report the Mail says: "The Boers are apparently running guns and importing men through the territory north of Lourenco Marques, where a stringent passport system has been established, much to the disgust of President Kruger's supporters and Dr. Leyds' recruits.

Nothing can be learned from the British side of the Pretoria report of heavy fighting at Colesberg.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Pietermaritzburg says that a letter dated Harrisburg, Dec. 22, states that three Englishmen, who had received passes authorizing them to remain in the Orange Free State, were commandeered on Dec. 25. They refused to fight their countrymen, and were shot in the market place.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Pietermaritzburg, dated Jan. 23, says: "The latest arrivals from Johannesburg say that the Boer methods are working ruin to the mines. The Boers pick out the rich ore, leaving the cost of further developments to the shareholders. Stores are being robbed wholesale. The safe-deposit vaults under the stock exchange have been broken open, and jewels and plate left by refugees have been extracted. Grass is growing in the streets, and cattle are grazing in fashionable thoroughfares. There are still about 2,000 outlanders in the Transvaal."

Leyds Anxious About Natal Campaign.

Antwerp, Jan. 24.—Dr. Leyds, the representative of the Transvaal in Europe, admits that the fate of the Transvaal depends on the issue before Ladysmith. He fully believes, however, that the Boer generals have a surprise awaiting the British.

Stamping Out Plague at Hawaii.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Major Blair D. Taylor, the surgeon in charge of the United States military hospital at Honolulu, reports as follows on the bubonic plague epidemic there: "Since my last report (Dec. 29) there have been to Jan. 7 three cases of the disease and one death. The progress of burning up the infected district is rapidly proceeding. Its inhabitants are being isolated and the government has placed $270,000 at the disposal of the board of health, with a promise of more if needed. But little apprehension is felt of its attacking the troops of the command."

Wooling Coal Combine Planned.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 24.—It is reported that the Union Pacific, Oregon Short line and Oregon Railway and Navigation railroads and the Diamondville and Kemmerer Coal companies have entered into a combine to control and operate a tract of valuable coal lands fifty miles square in western Wyoming. By pooling their interests the companies will monopolize the coal business in this section. Marcus Daly is heavily concerned in the deal.

Union Metal Worker Killed.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—As the culmination of labor troubles of three months' standing at Winslow Bros.' ornamental iron works, 368 to 402 Carroll avenue, Edward A. O'Connor, secretary of the Metal Workers' union, and a former employee of Winslow Bros., was stabbed and killed late Tuesday evening. His assailant, Julius A. Menzel of 350 North Lincoln street, a non-union man, is under arrest.

Explosion Wrecks a Paper Mill.

Steubenville, Ohio, Jan. 24.—A boiler in Hartie Bros. paper mill exploded Tuesday, wrecking the boiler-house and greatly damaging the works and property in the vicinity. There were many narrow escapes, but no one was killed. The whole city was shaken by the explosion and a number of windows were broken.

MR. CHAPPELLE IN MANILA

Hissed and Hooted at a Reception There.

NOZALEDA SIMILARLY TREATED

Apostolic Delegate to the Philippines Victim of an Angry Demonstration—Natives Suspecting Him in Sympathy with Hated Religious Orders.

Manila, Jan. 24.—The Filipino clergy gave a reception Tuesday evening to Archbishop Chapelle, the apostolic delegate, which resulted in an angry demonstration. Five hundred of the most prominent citizens and their families, including Attorney-General Florentino Torres and Senor Tavera, the leader of the pro-American Filipinos, attended the reception. The function attracted a crowd, numbering 2,000 persons, which thronged the streets in the vicinity of the house where the reception was held.

It was evident from the action of the crowd, and the remarks that were made, that excitement of some kind was anticipated. Archbishop Nozaleda and many of the representatives of foreign powers attended the reception. The lady principal of the municipal school was one of the guests. She started to read a petition praying for the withdrawal of the friars from the islands, but Archbishop Chapelle stopped her, saying that that question would be regulated by the pope, General Otis and himself. This statement caused the crowd to hiss and hoot, and there were many cries of "Out with the friars!" "Down with Nozaleda!" and "No friars in any capacity!"

When General Otis appeared he was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering, though some of the crowd in the street hissed him. As he left the reception he was again cheered. When Archbishop Nozaleda entered his carriage to return to his home the crowd hissed him again and again. Some of the women present wept upon hearing the insults offered to their spiritual leader. Archbishop Chapelle, who accompanied Archbishop Nozaleda, paid no attention to the mob, the members of which continued yelling for some time after the church dignitaries had left.

Public opinion, while regretting display of discourtesy, condemns the imprudence of the clergy in holding such a reception when the church question is causing so much agitation among all classes. On Friday next Archbishop Chapelle will hold a private conference with the native priests.

Filipinos Want Peace.

New York, Jan. 24.—The Herald prints a dispatch from Manila which says that paper's correspondents in the Philippines have read a letter from Senor Mabini, Aguinaldo's secretary of state, asking that congress be informed that the Filipinos would like to send a commission to present their claims and make suggestions for the future government of the islands.

Occupy Town of Santa Cruz.

Manila, Jan. 24.—The Americans have occupied Santa Cruz, on Laguna de Bay, Laguna province. It was reported many insurgents were concentrated there, but the town was found deserted. The military regulation requiring the streets to be cleared of natives at 8:30 p. m. has been changed to 10 o'clock.

Indiana Woman Under Grave Charges.

Alexandria, Ind., Jan. 24.—Mrs. John Wilson is under arrest here charged with being an accomplice of James Bodmen in an attempt to burn the Wilson home and murder her husband.

NOTHING IS BETTER

Impossible to Manufacture a Better Remedy.

Wisconsin People Make Good Witnesses of the Success it Has Achieved.

There can be nothing better for backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and all ailments arising from kidney disorders than MORROW'S KID-NE-IDS. It is impossible to manufacture a better remedy. KID-NE-IDS contain the very best ingredients that are good for ailments arising from the kidneys. The vast number of people in this city who have testified to the merits of KID-NE-IDS is sufficient proof that none of our claims are false.

Mrs. T. S. Johnson, 831 Harrison street, Beloit, Wisc., says: "I have been afflicted with kidney backache and other symptoms of disordered kidneys for some time past. During the continuance of my troubles I have experimented with kidney pills and other kidney remedies but did not get any relief until I used MORROW'S KID-NE-IDS. In a very short time I was greatly relieved. I continued to take KID-NE-IDS and I am being relieved of all my former troubles very rapidly. I think KID-NE-IDS a splendid remedy for kidney troubles."

MORROW'S KID-NE-IDS are not pills but yellow tablets, and sell at fifty cents a box by all druggists and by The People's Drug Co.

Mailed on receipt of price. Manufactured by John Morrow & Co., chemists, Springfield Ohio.

Prohibitionists in Chicago June 27.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—The national convention of the prohibition party has been called to meet here on June 27. The call, which was sent out Tuesday by Chairman Oliver A. Stewart of Illinois, gives each state four delegates-at-large and "twice as many delegates as the number of members of the lower house of congress to which it is entitled," and one additional delegate for every 1,000 votes cast for John Levering in 1896 for president. State conventions are to be held subject to each state central committee.

Thinking Husband Killed, Wife Dies.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Frank Carpenter died here today from shock. Her husband was employed on the new Stuart building, three stories of which were constructed. Green mortar in the foundation caused half of the block to fall, and Carpenter was buried in the basement. Soon after the ambulance brought him home his wife fell dead.

Indiana Operators and Miners.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Operators and miners held their first joint conference Tuesday. Walter S. Bogle of the Crescent Coal Mining company of Chicago was chosen chairman as soon as the joint conference got together, and W. C. Pearce, secretary of the United Mine workers, was made secretary.

Union Miners Are Placed on Trial.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 24.—The twelve union miners who stand indicted for the killing of five colored men on the streets of Cartersville Sept. 17 last were called for trial before Judge Vickers Tuesday. One hundred talesmen have been called to serve as jurors.

Chinese Reformers Still Hunted.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 24.—According to Hongkong advices the empress dowager of China is continuing her relentless warfare against Kang You Wei and other reformers who persuaded the Chinese emperor to adopt a liberal policy of reform two years ago.

Centenarian Celebrates a Birthday.

Albion, Ind., Jan. 24.—Samuel Saltzger, father of F. J. Saltzger, a resident of this county, has just celebrated his 100th birthday. A banquet was given the centenarian.

Hans Andersen has a story of a buffalo that scorned the snow flakes. "Pouf," he snorted, "I can blow you away with a breath, what can you do to me?" But the flakes kept falling, falling, until the buffalo was almost buried, and the hunter slipped along the snow crust and made him an easy prey. There's another hunter who hunts to kill, who makes many a man his victim because of a folly like that of the buffalo in Andersen's fable. It's a little thing to have that uneasy feeling in the stomach after eating. Sour risings and belching are also reckoned little things. Yet these little things are among the minor marks of a disordered condition of the stomach and organs of nutrition and digestion. Of themselves they may not kill, but if despised they may open a pathway to some deadly disease.

Don't neglect the first symptoms of indigestion or "stomach trouble." The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may avert a more serious danger. It will surely cure any disease of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, excepting cancer.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic of 27 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We indulged an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it, till last week, while playing at F. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a specific for biliousness.

A CITY ALL OF STUDENTS.

New University of California to Be an Ideal Institution for Education.

BY JOHN F. WILLOUGHBY.

Nothing in the way of an educational institution has ever been planned on such an elaborate scale as has the new University of California, the building of which Mrs. Phebe A. Hearst, America's foremost woman philanthropist, has devoted the larger part of her immense fortune.

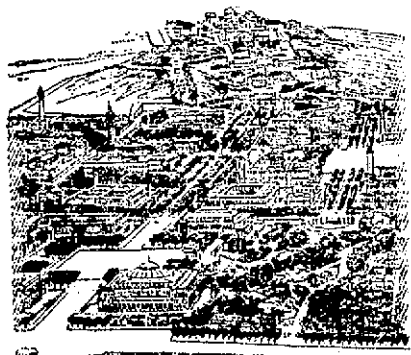

According to the plans of M. Bernard, the distinguished French architect whose design took first prize in the $100,000 competition, the new university is to be not merely a group of buildings, but a scintillating city, complete in every detail and as beautiful as a dream.

The present buildings of the university are situated on the Berkeley hills, and the grounds include several fine groves of trees. On one side is San Francisco bay. The buildings now standing are to be pulled down and the entire character of the grounds changed. The architects were instructed to treat the site as if it were so much blank space, taking note only of the natural features.

A population of 5,000 students of both sexes is anticipated. Besides these a large number of professors, instructors and the necessary number of working men and women to minister to the physical wants of those who learn and teach was the basis on which M. Bernard made his calculations.

Approaching the university from the bay side M. Bernard's plans show immediately within the entrance what he has called the "Fine Arts square." Three buildings are shown on the left—a school of fine arts, a university, museum and an academy of music. On the right are but two buildings—one a theater and the other a lecture hall—and between them undisturbed will be the grove of fine oaks which now contribute so much to the beauty of the university site.

Proceeding up University avenue, on the left is the university library, with a civil engineering building in the rear, and on the right the domed administration building, with a college of mines behind it. Then still farther

PLAN FOR NEW UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.
Up the avenue the buildings are divided by that broad, tree-lined boulevard into two groups.

All those on the left are devoted to general education; all those on the right to rest and recreation. The dormitory buildings facing one another look down on a flower-bordered campus, and on a lower level to the right is a grand recreation ground, with a truly magnificent gymnasium on the south side, sheltered from the heat and the winds, and on the east and west tribunes with rows of seats and proud pennants bearing stanchions.

Each architect was required to provide detailed plans of one building, and it is this particular structure which M. Bernard has chosen to depict. Broad driveways lead to the gymnasium from the south and curve around its eastern and western ends. Just across each of these latter roads a light bridge in the form of a graceful arch is thrown, and so connection is made directly between the gymnasium and two clubhouses.

On the north side of the main educational building is the agricultural college, with ample grounds for experimental work. Higher up comes the group of natural history buildings, and on the highest point reached by easy terraces is the university observatory. To the south of the last building, some distance removed, where fresh air can reach it at all times, is the infirmary.

The whole scheme shows breadth. There is no crowding and yet no waste, while creeks and trees and undulating surfaces are worked into the plan undisturbed and are made to contribute their share to a beautiful entity. Some of the most imposing structures have colonnaded fronts and are embellished with towers on the corners, relieving the view when caught from above of any monotony of dead level.

The whole project is finer than any similar conception ever contemplated by a university, and the honor that will accrue to the University of California upon its completion will be reflected upon the wonderful woman who inspired it.

It is estimated that the total cost of the new university will be about $30,000,000. The trustees expect that all of this vast sum will be subscribed and that the new university will be completed within ten years. Mrs. Hearst, who has met the expense of securing the plans, has agreed to erect two of the buildings. Mayor Phelan of San Francisco will build one, and Miss Jennie Flood will build another. Besides this, the subscriptions already amount to $7,000,000. M. Bernard is now in California busily overseeing the preliminary work. He expects to stay until the university is completed.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING.

Some Notes of Interest Concerning the Enquiet Sex.

Miss Mary Yocmans of California has made a snug little fortune in the collection and sale of butterflies. A few years ago Miss Yocmans and her two brothers came to this country from England to make their fortunes on the Pacific slope. The abundance, great variety and beauty of the butterflies of the locality attracted her attention. She knew that scientists and collectors were willing to pay generously for rare specimens, so she began the work of collecting them. Some fine specimens were sent to London, and for some of these she received $25 each.

She continued catching butterflies, selling them to private collectors, museums and scientific schools, and as a result she now owns a ranch in California worth $50,000.

Mrs. Adelia Octavia Conlston, who is the author of several books the motif of which is the prevention of cruelty to animals, manages a zoological garden at her summer home, The Cedars, at Rochelle Park, N. J.

A house of refuge for "homeless and defenseless" dogs is the somewhat peculiar institution established in Paris by the Baroness d'Harpen. Many stray canines and other dumb animals found in the streets of the French capital are cared for at this institution.

While women physicians are quite common and are attaining well merited prominence in the profession, the position of president of a medical college has not heretofore been held by a woman. This distinction has lately been conferred upon Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, who is now president of the National Medical college of Chicago.

Miss Anna Klumpke, the artist to whom Rosa Bonheur left her large fortune, is a native of California, having been born in San Francisco in 1860. Miss Klumpke was educated in Paris and some years ago became an intimate associate and friend of Miss Bonheur. One of the best portraits extant of the great animal painter is the work of Miss Klumpke.

The Companions of the Forest, a secret benevolent society, has for its supreme chief a woman, Mrs. Sarah Storey of Philadelphia.

The acting assistant of Surgeon General Sternberg of the United States army is Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee. She gets a captain's pay and may if she desires adorn herself with the shoulder straps of a captain.

Miss Bertha E. H. Herbert is a candidate for school commissioner in Westchester county, N. Y., and has carried on a vigorous campaign, which has fairly nonplused the old line politicians. She is young, bright and pretty and makes a persuasive appeal to the voters.

Mrs. Alice Rollins Crane of the bureau of ethnology of the Smithsonian institution at Washington has just returned from an extended trip through Alaska, whither she was sent by the United States government to inspect and report upon the prisons of that territory.

In the Dewey land parade in New York Miss May McAdams rode on a caisson with the Cincinnati Light battery along the entire line of march. She is not, however, an Ohio girl, but a New Yorker and the "little sister" of the Sixty-ninth regiment of New York.

She is an extremely patriotic young woman, and on the day of the Dewey parade insisted on appearing in the line with her regiment, but her comrades thought the march would be too long and tiresome for a girl, and she was prevailed upon to ride on the caisson of the Cincinnati battery.

Another American girl has captivated a foreign nobleman. The engagement is announced in London of Miss Pauline Moran, a prima donna, and Baron de Bush, an Englishman with a German title of nobility and a considerable estate. Miss Moran is a native of Chicago.

Mrs. Charles W. Rhodes of Chicago is lecturing before women's clubs on "Paris and the Exposition of 1900."

At the recent marriage of Miss Grace Darling and Mr. John Ringold McKay in New York the bride wore a wedding gift from the sultan of Turkey, it being a decoration of the Order of Chekakat, the bestowal of which is regarded as a great distinction in the Ottoman empire. Mrs. McKay formerly lived with her parents in Constantinople.

The fire brigade of Bozen, Germany, has a detachment of women life rescuers, who go through practically the same drill as the men and are not inferior to their male colleagues in courage and agility.

A unique club and one which is interesting women all over the country is the American Cat club, which was started some time ago in Chicago, but which now has members and branch organizations in nearly all the principal cities.

A TESTIMONIAL

To Boston Ideal
Fried Cakes

A Janesville working man recently carried several "Boston Ideal Fried Cakes" in his dinner pail for lunch. At noon a dozen of his comrades were invited to try these fried cakes. They all agreed they were the best they ever tasted, and were greatly surprised when told that they were bakery goods.

We now sell "Boston Ideals" to the 12 men and their families and they won't have anything else. We invite you to taste them.

A BUSINESS Proposition

If You See It In
The Gazette
It is New and True.

The price of The Gazette is fifty cents per month, or $5 per year if paid yearly in advance. The Gazette asks no charity. If people think it is worth the price we will be much pleased to deal with them. If not, we do not ask them to subscribe. We are getting out the best possible paper at the price, and selling it upon its merits. We are not selling it under false pretences, but like any other business concern of good repute, we seek to give full value received for every dollar we take in.

This issue is a fair sample of our paper, and we would be pleased to have your subscription—if you think it worth the price.

Order it by telephone 77-2 rings—either the Wisconsin or Rock county lines, at your convenience—or drop us a postal card, and we will do the rest.
